The series of games just closed on the home grounds was a notable one, and the result reflected much credit upon the They came home nearly three weeks ago, after a disastrous trip North, tightly anchored in seventh place.

The first three games were played with Norfolk. The Cherubs took two; then a series of three games was played with Newark, two of which were taken by the visitors, through the connivance of Umpire Snyder. Following Newark came Patersons, from whom the Cherubs took four games. Then Lancaster came to Richmond for a series of four games. two of which they won, whole Reading lost three.

lost three.

This was a remarkable series of victories, and it put the Cherubs in fourth place, very near the third. Of the seventeen games played, twelve were won by the Cherubs, 102 runs having been made by them against 65 by the opposing batters.

The club opens in Philadelphia to-morrow for a series of three games, going from there to Paterson, where a series will also be played. The following week will be divided between Newark and Hartford, and then the Cherubs will return home for another long series.

The Cherubs should easily break even in the trip, if not better, and return in the same position on the ladder, if not higher.

About 2,500 people saw the Cherubs take he third game from Reading yesterday The contest was a pretty one, and for

The contest was a pretty one, and for six innings the game was anybody's.

Umpire Burns was not up to his standard, and many of his decisions were very yellow. The most important of his rank decisions were confined to the ninth inning, when he called Jake Wells' fair ball a foul, and when he called Leever out at first. In trying to "even up" he made another rank error of judgment in calling Reddy Foster safe at the piale, when he was out easy. These errors of judgment did not affect the result, however, and they cannot be thought of seriously.

McDonald was shaky, and made the only errors of the game for the Cherubs. The stick work of Elsey was of the highest order. Chauncey's work at second was snappy, and his homer was a feature. Hargy got two hits, but was unfortunate in running bases, having been caught at second several times. Professor Sammy pitched a good game, allowed by the several times.

Professor Sammy pitched a good game, allowing but seven hits off his delivery, while eleven were secured from Herndon.

McIntyre and Gallagher had lots of ginger, the latter playing great ball, and going after everything within a mile.

TWO IN THE FIRST.

The Cherubs took the field with Leever in the box and Foster behind. Slater went in first for Reading and flew out to McDonald. Stratton followed by put-ting several fouls over the fence and then grounding to Stuart, who was slow in fielding, and he got safe. Minahan sin-gled to centre and Stratton went down. Spratt then flew out to Kain, who barely eaught it from the ground. McIntyre got safe on McDonald's wild throw, and Stratton scored. error and Minahan scored. In trying to catch Gallagher at second McIntyre stole home, making three runs. Then Hargrove went up and got hit intentionally, and the umpire very properly refused to give him first. Then he went out on a fly to Woodfuff. Stuart put the sphere out of the lot for a homer. Foster hit a beauty to short centre, but Gallagher a beauty to short centre, but changes ecovered an acre and stopped the bail. He threw wild, however, and Foster safed, while Mac went down. Jack Spratt, in the sixth, put it out for a bag and Melntyre hit for a bag, and Spratt attempted to go to third, but was caught on a beautiful throw from Kain to the Brownie, and Mac went to second. Gallagher beat a bunt down and McIntyre went to third. Barckley went up and Gallagher stole second, while Stuart caught Barckley out on a small sky scraper. Wells got hit by the ball and walked, while Leever bunted out. Hargrove hit for a bag and Jake went to third. Then Hargrove died in trying to steal second. Stuart died at first from Minnehan. Minnehan opened the eighth inning and went out to Elsey. Spr art went up and disturbed the calm atmosphere three times and then collapsed. McIntyre hit a grounder to Chauncey Bill and died at first.

Foster hit the first ball pitched for two hugs and Wells hit a beauty over first base a mile for two bases scoring Foster. Burns called it a foul, however, and Jake went back. He then went out on a foul to Harckley. Leever went up next and beat a bunt to first but Furns called him out. BASEBALLISTS AT LAW.

Pitcher and Owner of the Reading Club Have a Difference-Owner Arrested.

Baseball people went to law yesterday and kept the Sheriff of Henrico, Mr.

and kept the Sheriff of Henrico, Mr. Simon Solomen, and his efficient deputy, Mr. "Lew" Fussell, on the jump.
It seems that Conrad C. Lucid, pitcher for the Reading Club, which played a series of three games with the Richmond club here the latter part of the week, claims that Mr. E. A. Long, owner of the Reading Club, owes him $64 for wages.

So on Friday Pitcher Lucid consulted a lawyer, Mr. H. M. Smith, Jr., and that gentleman got an attachment on the gate money for the game at the Basebail Park.

Answering this process, Mr. Bradley, the owner and manager for the Richmond Club, said there was no money in the box office belonging to Mr. Long. Yesterday there was another attachment served on the same money with a like result.

So a caplas against Mr. Long, he being a non-resident, was then issued, and given to the Sheriff of Henrico county for execution.

Mr. Long was arrested and gave batt in double the amount of the sum involved to appear when needed.

He says that he will engage counsel at once and bring suit against Pitcher Lucid for damages for his arrest. or execution.
